Citizen group pleased with OMB decision

After more than ten years of discussion and dispute the case of the proposed Hall's Lake trailer park was finally settled at the Ontario Municipal Board hearings in Stanhope Township last week. Presiding Chairman Vern Singer called an end to the hearings on July 8 - they began on July 2 and ran for five days - after accepting an agreement struck by lawyers for the three sides of the case. According to the agreement, Stanhop Township, Dr. Offen (the owner of the land) and the Concerned Citizens of Hall's Lake, all accept that the Offen property will not be used as a trailer park.

The hearings dealt with all objections to Stanhope Council's controversial zoning bylaw 85-7. Chairman Singer however decided only on the Concerned Citizens' objection to the zoning of the Offen property. The Chairman's written decision on the Offen case as well as all the other objections will be delivered some time in the future.

Asked for Council's reaction to the OMB decision, Councillor Ann Barker said it would wait for the written judgement before it comes to any conclusions. "It looks as though the Concerned Citizens got everything they asked for, but there may still be more to come that we don't know anything about yet. What the chairman has said is final, but the written decision will probably include a lot of important details."

Elaine Burbidge, the spokesman for the Concerned Citizens was less reserved. "We're all very pleased with Mr. Singer's decision. It shows that if you get armed with the right ammunition and you find out the facts, democracy actually works and you have your chance."

Formed last year by a group of cottagers and year round residents of Hall's Lake who were opposed to

Dr. Offen's plan to build a trailer park on the east shore, the Concerned Citizens spent over $30,000 in their fight.

Part of that money - $5000 was spent on a water quality study. The cost of the study, the chairman ruled, will be shared by the municipality which will pay $2,000, Dr. Offen who will also pay $2,000 and the Concerned Citizens who will pay $1,000.

Perhaps the side of the dispute that has been heard least is Dr. Offen's. After spending more than ten years and a great deal of money on his development plan, the Toronto chiropractor was disappointed with the result of the hearing.

"In my attempt to develop my own property, I double checked and triple checked everything to make sure that I had the zoning and that I could afford to abide by all the regulations. I didn't want to do anything improper or wrong, because mistakes cost money as I've found out."

"And now that OMB has dealt with the case, I find that I've got the short end of the stick."

Dr. Offen also pointed out that he was upset no one had asked him about the quality of his planned trailer park. The number of lots, he said, was carefully restricted and he intended to have strict rules regarding bad behaviour and loose-pets. "Regulations like these are far less stringent and sometimes don't even exist in many cottage areas."

As for an appeal, Dr. Offen hasn't come to any decision yet. "Nothing of the hearing has been finalized yet and I haven't seen anything on paper."

But he did admit that his fight so far had been a bit like fighting with a brick wall. "I'm not a sore loser and I don't bear anyone any ill feelings. Just the same though, I do think I was in the right."

Clinic planned for Tuesday

They are looking for your blood!

That's right, the Red Cross Society would like you to donate a pint of blood during the clinic planned for next Tuesday.

According to clinic organizer Jim Holmes, this is the first time in fifteen years that a clinic has been held in the county and he is hoping residents will ensure it is a success. He also noted that city residents who are staying at their cottages that week are also encouraged to attend.

The clinic will be held at the Haliburton Legion Hall from 2 p.m. until 8:30 p.m.

The Rotary Club of Minden has offered to assist in transporting residents in the Minden area to the clinic. Residents on the Minden side of the county wishing to attend the clinic, but who do not have transportation, should call 286-1242 this week to make arrangements for a ride. This service is being provided free of charge.

CHACE opens daycare centres

It's common knowledge there's long been a need for daycare in the county and at the beginning of July, after receiving its licence from the Federal Government, CHACE (County of Haliburton Agency for Child Enrichment), opened its first day care centres. Run from private houses by 'home providers', the centres - presently there are two, one in Minden and the other in Haliburton - take children between the ages of six weeks and nine years and offer care on a level with anything, says organizer Faith Stephenson, you might find in a nursery school or larger day care institution.

Stephenson hopes that by the spring of 1987 she will have been able to recruit another nine home providers, giving CHACE a network of 11 centres in and around Minden, Carnarvon and Haliburton.

Her official title is 'home visitor', meaning that it is her job, besides finding and training new providers, to carry out inspections of each of the day care homes.

Even though the program has only been going for two weeks, says Stephenson, there is already a waiting list of parents who want care for their children. "We know there's a need for it, and in some cases it's the only way a parent can get off the welfare roles and start making a living."

"We charge $65 a week per child, or $14 a day. This is a good rate but we already know of some parents with two and three kids who can't get out of the house because they can't afford to put their kids in day care."

For this reason Stephenson recently approached the council of Anson, Hindon and Minden to ask for support so that parents who need but can't afford her service will be able to get assistance. Council is still looking into the matter.

Shelley Crowe runs a CHACE day care centre at her large, comfortable home on Anson Street in Minden. Though she's only been at her new job for a couple of weeks, Crowe already enjoys it and has become attached to her charges. "On Mondays, Tuesdays, and Fridays I have three kids but on Wednesdays I have five - that's the limit each provider is permitted."

As the children play contentedly with a big selection of toys, Crowe explains her plan to study childhood education at university. The people at CHACE, she says, were aware of her interest and approached her to run the Minden day care centre. Besides enjoying the work, she knows it will be good career experience.

Crowe stresses that she is not a baby sitter. "I avoid letting the kids watch television and try instead to get them involved in activities - playing and learning - that will stimulate growth both mentally and physically."

To make sure the children are stimulated Crowe has made up a schedule of activities that accounts for each hour of the day. Between nine and ten o'clock they play outside (or visit CHACE Place if it's raining), between ten and eleven the children come indoors for a snack and more play, and between eleven and 12 they listen to music and stories. The afternoon is broken up in a similar way and also includes a rest period.

As yet, Stephenson is well short of her target of eleven home providers. She asks that anyone interested in the position call her at 286-1831. Parents wishing to place their children with CHACE home providers should also call her at that number.

Car burns

Minden. The two rear seat passengers were thrown from the car although only one of them, Alan Kruuv, 19, of Willowdale, received injuries serious enough to require hospitalization.

The driver, 19 year old Jimmie Leblanc of North York and two other passengers, Antira Roffey, age 17 of Willowdale and Dian Debrau, age 17, of Agincourt, received minor injuries. No further injuries resulted when the vehicle subsequently caught fire.

Constable Dave Rogers was the investigating officer.

Unsafe turn

Two people received minor injuries on Thursday afternoon in a head-on collision between two cars on Horseshoe Lake Road. The driver of the south-bound vehicle, 16 year old Kimberly Lapstra of Bramalea, has been charged with making an unsafe turn and her passenger, William Lapstra, age 49, with failing to wear a seatbelt. Their car received $4,500 in damage.

The driver of the northbound car, Donald Thornton, age 60, of Scarborough, was not injured.

The accident was investigated by Constable Brian Sachs.

The air ambulance had to be used Friday to airlift Richard Mongeon, age 23, of Mississauga, to Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto. The man had apparently overindulged in alcohol and spent the day in the sun. He went into convulsions and muscle spasms and had to be restrained by police while being treated at Haliburton Hospital.

Acid rain report

The following precipitation events were reported at the Ministry of Environment testing station in Dorset during the past week and provided by Environment Canada.

- only one rainfall was reported in the last recording period, that being on July 12, when 6 mm of rain fell. The pH reading was 4.6. The path of the rainfall was over southern Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered serious. The lower the number, the more acidic the precipitation.

Do it now

The story of Colette Babineau's heart transplant, as reported on the opposite page, is indeed inspiring. The fact that society has acquired the knowledge to transfer human tissue from one body to another is a miracle. The faith exhibited by Colette, her family and friends is an inspiration for us all.

There is one dark cloud which hangs over this happy story however. That is the desperate, unmet need for donor organs. Every day individuals waiting for transplant organs die because none are available. At the same time, on those same days, individuals with useable, healthy organs pass away, taking with them a possible new lease on life for someone else in the world.

Considering the advanced state of medical science, it is surprising that what is missing in the chain is an adequate supply of donors. Each day, individuals die without having heard in advance that they could contribute to someone's well-being. With a few moments consideration now, long before death approaches, individuals can ensure that healthy organs from their own body will not be wasted.

The first step is to sign the consent form attached to one's driver's licence. The form requires that the owner select one of three options and add a signature at the bottom. The next step is to inform your next of kin of your desires. Often, survivors will thwart the intentions of someone who has died, if they are not aware in advance of his other wishes. If they are informed, they can also ensure that your wishes are carried out by alerting the proper authorities at the time of death.

The third step is to do it now. Take your licence from your wallet or purse and sign the consent form now, and then inform your immediate family of your wishes.

If everyone who could, readily agreed to donate useful organs upon death, there would be little reason for critically ill patients like Colette Babineau to wait and wonder each day whether a suitable life-saving, donations will become available.

Editor:

I would like to respond to the letter July 8 regarding Mr. Woods comment on Stanhope Township.

First of all I do not find taxes here anymore unreasonable than anywhere else. We own a building lot at Victoria Harbour and also pay a school tax there. I don't like the tax, but it's my choice to own the property, so we pay the tax just as it's Mr. Woods' choice to live on Peach Lake with questionable roads.

We lived in Holland Landing for six years and paid $900.00 for non paved roads, no sewers and no town water, no street lights, now they have these things imagine what the taxes are. Our nearest fire department was over 10 miles away and I take exception to his comments of the Fire Department up here. Most of these men are employed elsewhere and are fortunate enough they don't lose their job when they stop what they are doing to run to a fire.

No fire department can save a building when it is fully engulfed before they are called. These men have saved many cottages and fortunately had no loss of life. They attend training courses and fire safety courses throughout the year at Gravenhurst and Norwood and once a month attend Mutual Aid meetings.

These men are, as Mr. Woods says, volunteer. What does he think his taxes would be if they were paid and manned the station 24 hours a day. I have two sons that serve on the Stanhope Fire Department and you cannot ask for a more dedicated group of men. They respond quickly any hour of day or night, and last year if you remember 4 men were hospitalized trying to save Halls Lake Cafe.

Closeness does not always matter. We lost a son in a fire in Clarkson and that Fire Department could not save him.

Mr. Woods' washed out road was by far not the only thing the tornado hit and after the aftermath most of the Fire Department members were out helping clear roads despite their own problems.

It really sounds to me as if Mr. Woods would like the country cottage life with all the city conveniences but does not want to pay for them.

M. Lawr,
Maple Lake.

P.S. For $5.00 per month I even have a good reliable garbage pick-up better than Holland Landing gave us.

Editor:

My purpose in writing this week is twofold. First, I would like to remind our local people and our summer visitors that there will be a Lawn and Bake Sale at Zion United Church in Carnarvon this Saturday morning and that our local ladies and gentlemen are good cooks. We have had a good response to this function in the past and are looking forward seeing many people here on Saturday.

My second purpose is to thank again the many people who are working so hard to clean up and make safe our previous camp-site on Hurricane Lake and also to those working so hard to set up our new temporary camp-site on Peach Lake. Time does not permit me to name every one of these people this week as I have in the past few weeks, but the thanks is just as sincere. I do need to express one get well greeting here in print to "Terry Griffin" - my thoughts and prayers are with you as you recuperate from your accident of last Friday at our old camp-site.

Sincerely,
Yvonne Penney.

Lottery laws

- by John Eakins, MPP -

Recently, I announced in the legislature at Queen's Park that I am proposing changes to the laws governing the sale of lottery tickets. The proposed legislation I introduced will make mail-order lottery operations illegal.

I was pleased to see this announcement reported by the media throughout the province because I feel these proposed changes will benefit many.

The amendment to the current legislation applies to lottery schemes conducted or managed by the Ontario Lottery Corporation Act will prohibit anyone from engaging in a business that involves the sale, distribution or advertisement of lottery tickets unless authorized by the Corporation.

The changes will also prohibit the purchase of lottery tickets in Ontario for the purpose of engaging in a business located outside Ontario which involves the sale, distribution or advertisement of lottery tickets.

The legislation will make mail-order ticket operations clearly illegal in Ontario. The amendment also states that no ticket may be sold at more than the amount shown on the ticket.

I was also pleased to see this proposal meet with the approval of my colleagues across the floor of the legislature. Pat Hayes, the member for Essex-South responded in the legislature by

Heart recipient urges donors to pledge now

"Don't take your organs to heaven - heaven knows we need them here."

Colette and Jeff Babineau recall this clever turn of phrase seen on a button worn by a doctor in a Toronto hospital. For them however, the words are more than a slogan, they represent a life-saving reality.

Because someone in London, Ontario, decided that his or her internal organs were just too valuable to take with them when they died, Colette Babineau of Minden is alive today. Colette is the recipient of a transplanted heart.

It is astounding, as one sits across the table from Colette, to appreciate that less than ten weeks ago, doctors were in the middle of a five hour operation to replace her heart with one from the London donor. Somehow one expects a heart transplant patient to be confined to the intensive care unit in a hospital, attached to all sorts of complicated equipment, not sitting beside the quiet water of Mountain Lake.

But there she was, looking a little drawn, definitely weighing less than she should, but nonetheless vital and alive. Her eyes sparkle, she is eager to answer questions, to enjoy to the fullest, each day of her life.

Colette's health problems were first discovered at the age of 12. It was then that doctors determined that she had an enlarged heart muscle. The medical practitioners cautioned her not to take part in strenuous exercise and activities.

She lived with this restriction through her teenage years. After moving to Toronto from here five years ago, she met and married Jeff Babineau, formerly from New Brunswick. She had been working at a Woolco store in the city and most recently, been looking after children in her own home.

Seriously ill

When visiting with her parents, Al and Meryl Hudson during the Christmas holidays, Colette became extremely ill. Colette was taken to Minden hospital where local doctors contacted the physician in Toronto, Dr. Doug Cameron, who had been monitoring her heart condition.

Upon hearing of her deteriorating health, Dr. Cameron immediately dispatched a team of heart specialists to Minden to stabilize her condition and then accompany her back to Toronto. Previously, the doctor had discovered her heart had an extra beat. They felt this latest problem was caused by an infection. The doctors attempted to treat the problem with drugs and initially there was to be an improvement in Colette's condition.

The 23 year old was back in Minden March 1, when once again she became extremely weak and ill. The emergency transfer process, this time from Minden to Bracebridge by ambulance then to Toronto by jet ambulance and helicopter to Toronto General Hospital.

Once again she was released following treatment and returned to Minden and once again she became ill. Colette experienced problems breathing and felt extremely weak. By now the doctors in Toronto were beginning to question their initial diagnosis as to the cause of her problem. Further examinations confirmed the problem was not related to an infection, but that in fact, her heart was simply not functioning properly.

The doctors then explained to Colette that the only way to eliminate the problem would be to replace her heart. They carefully outlined the risks involved, including the possibility that the new heart, if one could be found, might be rejected by her own body or that other complications could arise.

Initially the doctors, while considering her condition serious, did not think the need for a transplant was urgent. Further tests revealed however, that the situation was more pressing than anyone thought. In fact, the heart specialist told Colette that unless a replacement heart could be found within a week's time, it could be too late.

While, up to this point, this narrative has dealt with Colette and her problems, she is eager to point out that she was not travelling the harrowing road alone. Her husband Jeff was at her side throughout the ordeal, sharing the pain, suffering and worry. Her parents and brother Darryl, sister Marla and her husband Kevin were also constant companions, listening carefully to the assessments, praying with her and sharing in the important decisions as each arose. "I certainly couldn't have gone through what I did without their support and constant concern," Colette noted.

Feeling better every day, Colette Babineau received a new heart during a five hour operation May 10.

Throughout this Colette was gradually becoming weaker. From the first major illness in December to the end of April she had slowly lost weight. Her overall condition concerned the doctors because they knew her body would need to have a reservoir of resources if she was to recover from a heart transplant operation. When the doctors told her that a replacement heart had to be found within a week, Colette weighed 65 pounds. She had been attached to a mechanical life support system since early March, except for three weeks. Her body had taken a physical battering from within, but despite the increasingly bleak outlook, her attitude remained positive.

The urgent need for a replacement heart was transmitted to all organ retrieval teams throughout the continent. The request was registered with the Multiple Organ Retrieval Exchange, a clearing-house for transplant donations and recipients, with its headquarters at the Toronto General Hospital.

Asked them to pray

Colette's mother recalls this critical period, just prior to the operation. "People would ask what they could do to help," she commented. "We asked them to pray, to pray for wisdom for the doctors, to pray to God that the timing would be right, that a heart could be found and that Colette's body would be strong enough to receive it."

Those prayers were answered. Just before the donated heart was found, doctors described Colette's body as being as haemodynamically ready as it would ever be. She had rallied, caught an updraft on what seemed to be an endless downward plunge since Christmas. Her body had rallied and her attitude was positive. The doctors would not have proceeded if

Another column for the post office

Several weeks ago, we published in this journal, a letter to the editor, (moi?), from a Mr. Joe Curtin. Mr. Curtin is a regular contributor to our letters column, having spoken out in the past about the Ingoldsby bridge reconstruction, pollution from the Ingoldsby dump, among other topics of interest.

His latest missive concerned the state of postal service in Canada and the delivery of this newspaper to his home in Toronto in particular. I, as editor, thought of commenting at the time to the remarks he made, however, one thing led to another and his letter appeared without an editor's note.

(I should note at this point that I am hesitant to use the editor's note device on the end of letters. I feel it distracts from the message the writer is attempting to get across and appears to foster the old "last word" syndrome, and heaven knows, we don't need anymore syn or dromes in this old world of ours. Some newspapers, like the Sun in Toronto, for those who bother to turn past page three, seem to delight in Editor's comments, with each letter being assailed or endorsed with short one liners. Well, that's just not my style.)

And yet...I would like to add several comments which I feel are relevant to the letter of several weeks ago. If I may précis Mr. Curtin's comments...an edition of The Times took 16 days to reach him in Toronto, compared with 9 days delivery for the Echo...there is consistently slower delivery from the Minden post office.

It was the final comment on which I wanted to comment, if only to leap to the defence of those smiling faces behind the counter at the Minden post office. As the persons who delivers the newspapers to the local post office each week, I am well aware of the procedure followed by the local members of the mail society of Canada. In short, the papers destined for Toronto are left in the bags in which we bring them to the post office and those bags are subsequently loaded onto a southbound truck Wednesday afternoon at approximately 4 p.m. The same truck carries similar bags from the Haliburton post office, some no doubt, holding the copies of the Echo, also bound for addresses beyond the county boundaries.

Now I don't wish to wash my hands of the responsibility for those newspapers once they leave my control, in fact I am keenly interested in ensuring they get

by editor & publisher Jack Brezina delivered as expeditiously as possible to readers no matter where they reside. However, once they leave the county, and they do each week on the same day, at the same time, there is little I can do directly to speed their delivery. Some of those papers are sorted in Lindsay, some go to Toronto to be sorted there, still others, it would appear from Mr. Curtin's comments, seem to take a royal tour through Her Majesty's system before finding their way to his doorstep.

There are some journalists, like George Gamester in the Toronto Star, who seem to revel in the retelling of postal "horror stories", you know, those in which a letter has taken forever to travel across the street. While no doubt these stories are true, I hardly believe they represent a true picture of the service experienced by most Canadians. Indeed, since my time in Minden, seven years, I have detected a marked improvement in the delivery of this journal to our subscribers beyond the county line. We receive regular feedback from those who get the paper and friends or relatives who are on the subscription list. In the past, we have heard from readers in such places as Toronto, Kingston, Ottawa, Kitchener and yes, even Cochrane in northern Ontario, who told us they regularly receive their papers on the Friday of the week it is published. Several years ago, subscribers considered themselves lucky if the paper arrived the following Monday or Tuesday.

Of course the system is not perfect and there are lots of places in the stream of things where a paper can go astray. My suggestion for those in Ontario who are not receiving their newspaper in good time, is to contact their local post offices and see if the problem can be traced from that end. Also, let me know, and I'll see if there is anything wrong at this end.

The postal persons we know here in Minden and Haliburton are hard working dedicated individuals who are working with us to move the newspaper as quickly as possible. Their efforts, and those of their colleagues down the line, are appreciated. Now if we can determine where the bottlenecks are occurring, perhaps all of our readers outside of the county can begin enjoying the postal service that most appear to be getting now.

Committee studies violence

- by Bill Scott, MP -

Federal Sport Minister Otto Jelinek recently announced a new program named "Fair Play in Sport-A Campaign Against Violence". He named a 14 member advisory committee to provide advice and to establish links with relevant groups outside the government.

The federal cabinet has authorized $500,000 a year for five years to finance the project. The advisory committee chairman is Gilles Neron, former Quebec Sports Safety Board head, and author of a report on violence in sport. Wayne Gretzky has been named honorary chairman. He has indicated he will play an active role in the campaign. Tom Nease, retired chief executive officer of Adidas Canada, has been named vice-chairman.

Other members are: Jean Beliveau, vice-president, Montreal Canadiens; Ed Chynoweth, president, Junior Western Hockey League; Murray Costello, president, Canadian Amateur Hockey Association; Geoff Gowan, president, Coaching Association of Canada; George Gross, Toronto Sun sports editor; Abby Hoffman, Director-General of Sport Canada; Bruce Hood, NHL referee; Diane Jones-Konihowski, former star pentathlete; Lois Kalchman, freelance writer on minor hockey; Ralph Mellanby, CTV Executive Producer, 1988 Calgary Olympic Games broadcasts; Dr. Andrew Pipe, sports medicine expert.

Program projects will focus on education, promotion, research, federal-provincial collaboration and other special projects.

The program will take action against violence in all sports that fall under the purview of the Ministry. It will concentrate on amateur and minor league levels with a view to influencing professional sport.

Violence is discouraging Canadian children and adults from participating in sport. It results in heavy medical costs to Canadians. This program seeks, in a non-legislative way, to reduce violence in sport thereby encouraging Canadians to pursue athletic endeavours with greater personal rewards.

Track star

It is not often that we can boast that we have a world class athlete in our midst. However, Lindsay now can lay claim to another such great athlete in the person of Miss Heather Ostic.

Heather's fleetness of foot, under the coaching of Scott Ogilvie, led her to the Canadian Track and Field Championship in Saint John, New Brunswick in late June of this year. The results of her conscientious training program paid off in duplicate at that competition. She won both the 1500 metre and the 3000 metre events and was named to the Canadian Junior Track and Field Team for the Pan American Games and the World Junior Games.

I know Heather's parents and friends are very proud of her, as we all can be, and I join you in wishing Heather congratulations on her accomplishments to date and every success at the World Junior Games in Athens on July 16 - 20. Good luck Heather and good running.

Mr. Hayes also made mention of Mel Swart, M.P.P. for the riding of Welland-Thorold who has been supportive in this area. Mr. Hayes told members of the House that "It would be unfair if I did not rise in my place and say to the Minister of Tourism and Recreation that, although the legislation is a little later than I had hoped for, I do want to compliment him on introducing it and to compliment him on what appears to be the quality of the legislation, particularly the section that does not permit anyone to sell lottery tickets above their face value."

It is always gratifying to receive support from the opposition and I feel this announcement was well received throughout the Province.

I also feel a recent announcement by my colleague, the Honourable Ed Fulton, the Minister of Transportation and Communications will be welcomed in Victoria - Haliburton. My colleague has announced road construction improvements on Highway 648 and 121.

Heart operation lasted five hours they felt she was not ready. However, they also knew there would likely not be many more opportunities.

On May 9, the news came. A suitable heart was available in London, Ontario and it was being prepared for the flight to Toronto. With the decision already made, the family shared one last moment of prayer and Colette was wheeled into the operating room.

The operation began at 1 a.m. May 10 and lasted five hours. During that time her family maintained a vigil in the hospital, regularly receiving updates from the operating room and praying for her safe recovery.

The operation was carried out by a team of surgeons led by Dr. Tyron David of Toronto. He is known affectionately to the Toronto medical community and to Colette's family as "magic fingers." The name refers to the speed with which the surgeon carries out his responsibilities.

Since May 10, Colette has been gradually recovering from the massive surgery. Four weeks ago she moved to her parents' home on Mountain Lake where her recovery has been proceeding apace. Each week she gains several pounds in weight and each week she feels a little stronger. Doctors have told her that once her strength has returned, there is no reason she cannot lead what most consider to be a normal life, enjoying the exhilaration of strenuous pursuits like water skiing and swimming and sharing in the more onerous tasks that face one each day, like housework or physical labour.

Colette's ordeal has also made her and her family keenly aware of the need for individuals to indicate in advance that they wish to donate their useable organs to other when they die. Colette notes that the Ontario driver's licence includes a section which the driver can sign indicating that he or she is willing to donate useful organs for transplant purposes. Colette urges everyone with a licence to sign that section now.

But just as importantly, she suggests that those agreeing to make the donation should inform members of their family about their decision. She noted that if immediate relatives object to the removal of organs at the time of death, doctors will generally follow their wishes, feeling they should override the unspoken desire of the deceased.

Waiting desperately

"Somebody saved my life," Colette states, "By being willing to donate one of their organs. People need them, the list is long and those on the list are desperate."

Colette recalls the anxious days that passed in the hospital after doctors had given her a week to live. "It was difficult to hear the news each day that there was not an organ available." For her, the good news finally came, however, she noted that for many, that news never comes.

Colette is a member of a religious family, a family which has obviously drawn a great deal of strength and support from their faith in God during the trying period. For her, the ordeal has strengthened her belief. "God means more to me each day following the operation," she commented. "I truly believe that our prayers are heard and that they are answered."

Someone who has been through as much as Colette has, obviously is very grateful to many individuals and organizations. High on her list is her husband Jeff. "He stuck it out with me, every step of the way," she comments. "Don't take your marriage partner for granted," she advises, "or someday you may not have that person around."

Colette pays tribute as well to her parents who shared her struggle, her younger brother Darryl, sister Marla and her husband Kevin.

The medical staff who attended to her requirements also come in for high marks from Colette. From the ambulance and nursing staff in Minden, through to the chief surgeon in Toronto, they have all helped ease her through this crisis.

Of course many relatives and friends offered encouragement and their prayers for her swift recovery. Included among these are the members of the Minden Baptist Church, the Stouffville Missionary Church, the couple's landlady in Markham, Mrs. Maynard, the members of the Babineau family in New Brunswick, who were unable to attend personally but who, with their congregation, the Smythe Street Cathedral in Fredericton, New Brunswick, added their prayers and the Prudential Assurance Company, with whom her father is employed.

There are, of course, many individuals, some of whom Colette will likely never know, who shared her burden during the crisis. Although she was unable to bring them all to mind at the time, Colette is most appreciative of their support and encouragement.

What's ahead for Colette? The doctors will want to keep a close eye on her progress over the next few months to ensure no complications arise. With the return of her strength, she can slowly become more active and, within a very short time, return to a normal life.

But one thing is certain. The experience she has just undergone has strengthened her faith and given her a whole new outlook on life. One can easily understand why.

Editor's note: We are pleased to send anniversary wishes to Colette and Jeff as they mark their third anniversary today, July 16, 1986.

U.S. visitors see Highlands potential

For years now Elgin Stouffer has been taking holidays at Myrtle Beach in S.C., an established tourist area that has been attracting holiday makers for more than 50 years. Stouffer, who is a real estate salesman with Bowes and Cocks in Minden and a former Deputy Reeve of Stanhope Township, believes that Myrtle Beach and the Highlands have a lot in common. So when he learnt that Susanne Sartelle, the manager of the Myrtle Beach Chamber of Commerce, was in Toronto for a visit, he invited her to come and speak in Minden.

On Monday, July 7, Sartelle made an interesting and informative speech to the Rotary Club, and on the following Tuesday she spoke to Shirley Rapson, manager of the Haliburton County Chamber of Commerce, before returning to Toronto.

Speaking afterward to a Times reporter, Sartelle explained that she is impressed with the potential of the Highlands. "I think the place is beautiful; I've never seen such blue lakes before and the scenery is magnificent. You've got everything most tourists could ask for."

She also suggested some ways that people in the county might encourage more tourists to come. "I think you should be working more heavily on promotion. At Myrtle Beach we all try to get as much media exposure as we can because the more people who know about you the more people who will come to visit."

"At Myrtle Beach we lean heavily on volunteer workers. Everyone in the tourism business co-operates to help each other. We promote each other every way we can."

Sartelle pointed out that it is through membership to the Chamber of Commerce that people of her area work together most. "We have regular dinners and functions at which members share ideas and come up with new ones. It is these sorts of events, we've found, that spark some of our best ideas."

Another program she suggested that might be of benefit to the county is cottage sharing. In her area, Sartelle explained, it is common for cottage owners to rent their cottages to tourists when they are not using them. In most cases, she said, the task of finding a renter is done by a real estate agent. This way the owner makes only a small effort and has an income from the property that might help to pay the mortgage.

Shirley Rapson said she was impressed with many of Sartelle's ideas but also remarked that many of the things are already being done here. "We do some renting of private cottages and we also do a lot of advertising - though in the area of promotion Myrtle Beach does a lot more than us because they have a great deal more money to spend."

"But I was impressed with Sartelle's suggestions on co-operation and volunteer work. I think there could be a lot more of this in the county."

U.S. visitors Susanne and Victor Sartelle.

Number system locates Clear Lake cottages

Like many similar organizations in the county, the Clear Lake Cottagers Association of Lutterworth Township has introduced an emergency numbering and mapping system. The completed plan was unveiled at the group's annual meeting held June 29.

Association member and Lutterworth Deputy Reeve Carol Puffer, designed the system for the group. Numbers were assigned to each property on the lake with points of access indicated.

An accompanying map indicates the most convenient access route for emergency vehicles. In addition, number signs have been erected at the entrances to assist emergency services in locating a specific property. The maps have been distributed to all property owners and to the fire departments, OPP and ambulance services.

Several volunteers offered to assist in erecting the signs at the entrances. The offer of Leon Good, Dean Perry and Gord Bird was gratefully accepted by the members.

The meeting was told that the cost of the signs was $4 each, with additional costs for posts. So far, some $332 has been spent on the project.

Constable Mike Maybee of the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police addressed the meeting. He outlined the increased effort his department will be putting into the enforcement of regulations covering the operation of a boat. In particular, he noted that officers on marine patrol will be watching for boaters who are operating their craft while under the influence of alcohol.

The constable noted that boaters can be charged with impaired driving, similar to drivers of automobiles. He pointed out that that officers can request a breath sample from anyone in charge of the operation of a watercraft to ensure his or her sobriety.

The officer also outlined the cottage patrol system and the regulation governing the operation of off-road vehicles such as ATC's.

The members of the association agreed to an increase in the cost of membership from $10 a year to $15.

The were also informed that Bell Canada has received approximately 35 applications for the installation of phone lines along the Clear Lake Road and work should be starting later this year with installation expected next spring.

A corn and wiener roast will be held on Sunday of the Labour Day weekend. The get-together is planned for the Wood's beach with Jean Wood chairing the event.

The association also elected its executive for the coming year. Members of the board of directors include: Elizabeth Wright, D. Hutchings, Carol Puffer, L. Good, D. Parry and B. Trautmann. The seventh position on the board will remain vacant for the moment.

Disabled individuals can obtain a specially marked licence plate at no extra charge from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications. We have brochures at the Haliburton County Information Centre, distributed by the Secretariat for Disabled Persons, which outline many considerations of interest to the disabled driver or members of the family. It offers suggestions to choose the right vehicle, where to buy equipment and where driving instruction is available.

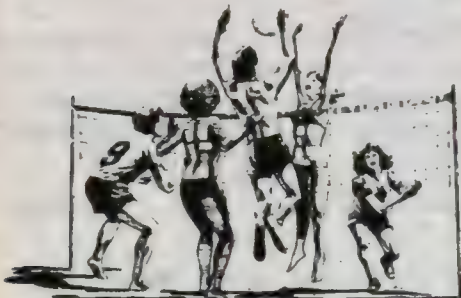

The Ministry of Revenue offers a rebate on federal excise tax to individuals for gasoline purchased by a disabled person. Claim forms are found at the Post Office. The Ontario government will refund sales tax paid on any new or used motor vehicle purchased for the permanently disabled Ontario resident unable to use public transportation. Details for this refund are available at the Information Centre.

Gray Coach and Via Rail offer reduced fares for the disabled traveller and attendant. The two can travel for the price of one ticket. Nordair, Air Canada, among others offer 50% reduced fares to the attendant of a disabled person. Always advise reservation agents of any disability and if a wheelchair is required.

If you want information on planning buildings for the public or for an individual home, the Barrier Free Design Centre is a non-profit group that can advise. They offer information kits on bathrooms, bedrooms, kitchens or ramp plans so that no small detail will be missed.

We have more pamphlets and details at the Information Centre, drop by and ask your questions. Our phone number is 457-2733. We will accept collect calls from Dorset and Kinmount residents.

Inn captures cheerful ambience

Two years ago when Dave and Kay Phelps were looking for a country inn to buy, they found themselves drawn particularly to Haliburton County. "There's so much history around here," explains Dave. "The whole county has a strong sense of heritage and you can see it in all the old buildings."

And in June of 1985 the Phelps bought the Moore Lake Inn, beside Moore Falls. Built in 1907, it is one of the older establishments in the Highlands, and even in the early days at the turn of the century, says Dave, the inn was well known as the property of one Thomas Leary, a man noted for his hospitality. So Dave and Kay are confident they've found the right building in an area itself known for its history.

As soon as the sale was complete they set about the job of repairing and renovating the building. "There were a lot of things that needed to be done and we felt the whole place needed to be up-graded," says Dave. Both husband and wife have full time jobs in Toronto - Dave teaches business administration at Humber College and Kay works at the Bay - so they were able to pay for the work without going to the government. Instead, says Dave ruefully, they have a bank loan.

And even though Dave is an expert in small business he admits it was all very hard work at first. "We were taking in guests right from the start and for a while we were trying to handle the renovations and the guests at the same time. That meant I had to drive up from Toronto to supervise things as often as three times a week."

By winter though, the Phelps decided to concentrate on the building work and temporarily closed their doors. Since then a lot of money has been spent and a great deal of work done.

"We had the whole place gutted and completely redone. But we've tried to retain the antique quality by exposing the beams and by choosing the right wall paper and furniture."

Now the eight bedrooms, dining room, and bar are finished and on Saturday the Phelps had their official opening. Even Dave's brother, Tony, came all the way from England with his wife Judy, and sons Daniel and Matthew specially for the occasion. So when Tony cut the ribbon on Saturday afternoon, surrounded by Phelps relatives and Inn employees, it was a festive occasion.

From a quick tour of the building you can see why Dave and Kay are so proud of their efforts. All the rooms are clean and bright; the high ceilings have been kept; large, bright windows surround the walls and some of the floors still have the slight tilt you find in all old houses.

And from Britain the Phelps have imported a cook, David Currey, to run the kitchen. The plan, explains Dave Phelps, is to build a reputation at the Inn for both accommodation and cuisine.

Now that the hard part has been finished the Phelps hope to run the Moore Lake Inn as a second business and weekend retreat and to keep their jobs in the city.

Small business owners will realize this is an ambitious scheme and perhaps even shake their heads in disbelief. But when you consider some of the work and accomplishments Dave and Kay have already chalked up, their idea doesn't appear the least bit far fetched.

Home Support begins county-wide survey

by Donna Bailey

Within the next month, Gail Barnhart and Cathy Tyler will be phoning every household in Haliburton County concerning questions to do with the Needs Assessment project.

The Haliburton County Home Support Services and The Drop-In Centre brochures have been mailed to each home in Haliburton County. The questions that Gail and Cathy will ask are confidential. The questions are for all age categories, and concern the needs of people in our County now and in the future.

The main emphasis of the questionnaire is on the needs for our seniors and disabled persons and those who are in the pre-retirement stages of their lives. We kindly ask for your participation in answering the questionnaire as it will be a projection for the next five to ten years as to the programs that Home Support Services will have. Thank you.

We are pleased to announce a new convener for Wheels to Meals for Haliburton and area - Joan Holmes. Virna Wagg has kindly convened this program over the last year, we thank her for doing a terrific job. We are in need of drivers to take people to the Haliburton Wheels to Meals which is held at Locarno-on-the-Lake on alternate Wednesdays. If you can help us, please contact our office at 457-2941 any week day. Thank you.

We are open Mondays to Fridays from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Our office and Drop-In Centre is located in the Drag River Municipal Building opposite Emerson Lumber. Federation of Ontario Naturalists

A new water pollution abatement policy, announced by Environment Minister Jim Bradley last week, is Ontario's most important advance in water pollution control in 25 years.

For decades, Ontario's philosophical basis has effectively been to allow discharge of as much pollutant as a waterway can assimilate without 'becoming unstuck'. Under the new policy, the goal will be "the virtual elimination of persistent, toxic substances from discharges into Ontario's waterways."

The importance of this philosophical basis cannot be overstated. Under the old approach, Ontario, basically, moved to curb or reduce contaminant discharges - or to merely dilute them further - only when obvious problems developed. And the level of pollution at which 'thing became unstuck' became a matter for eternal debate - was it the level at which fish contained contaminants, or only when every last creature died?

The old approach has been seriously flawed in other ways, too. With 500 chemicals being developed or introduced to the industrial repertoire each year, all can't be exhaustively tested - for long-term effects, for concentration in the food chain or for synergistic effects with other chemicals. PCBs provide a case in point. In widespread use for nearly 50 years as a transformer coolant, they were assumed to be basically innocuous if 'diluted' and were regularly disposed of - in dumps, by washing spills into sewers and even mixed with waste oil for dust spraying on gravel roads. It was only coincidentally - when biologists noted collapse of gull reproduction that the full risk became clear. Although you, I and everyone alive now has PCBs in their system, we were fortunate that the gull collapse forewarned us of serious problems, and led to stringent controls.

The new policy will, basically, assume that toxic chemicals are going to pose problems, and work for their elimination, rather than holding emissions just below the level expected to produce problems.

This is precisely the change which the Federation of Ontario Naturalists has been advocating - coupled with creation of state-of-the-art hazardous waste disposal facilities, and a cleanup of existing leaking dumps.

There are a number of key components to the "Municipal-Industrial Strategy for Abatement" as the new policy is called. It:

- states first and foremost that the objective will be elimination of toxics in discharges.

- stipulates use of best available technology. Many industries, like older pulp and paper plants, are still using archaic, outdated facilities.

- proposes a review cycle - the Minister has suggested every 7 - 10 years to FON - for upgrading of the technology standards.

- will require every discharger to monitor and record toxic contents of its effluent. These will be collected and spotchecked by the Ministry, and violators will be severely dealt with. This data will provide - for the first time - a comprehensive picture of wastes going into Ontario's water.

The Minister has separately told FON that he will be proposing legislative and regulatory amendments to vastly increase polluter penalties.

The approach will not produce an overnight reduction in the toxic effluents which ultimately wind up in the chemical soup we eat, breathe, drink and move in. But it does provide the direction which has been so sorely needed. With resolve by the Government of the day to implement it, this policy will begin ratchetting down the emissions which have created the present-day legacy.

It's a direction which will have costs - for Government, industry and consumers alike. But it's also a policy that will provide for the well-being of this and future generations.

Hustlers win

The Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers scored eight runs in the second inning last Thursday night enroute to a 10-0 win over the Woodville Merchants, to keep a share of first place with Lindsay Pizza Hut with an 8-3 record.

Andrew Burk held the big bat for the Hustlers as he slammed two home runs, both in the second inning. Barry Shaw also added a homer while Brian Shaw had two singles and a triple.

Jack Snell and Brian

combined to pitch a three hitter for the win.

This week the Hustlers travel to Woodville on Thursday, July 17, night, to take on the merchants at 8:30 p.m. Next week on Monday, July 21, the locals will host Lindsay Pizza Hut at 8:00 p.m. and on Thursday, July 24 at 8:00 p.m. Lindsay Kent Tavern will be here to round out the schedule.

Let's give the boys a boost as they go after the league championship.

Toronto writer guest at restaurant opening

One of the newest additions to the busy restaurant scene in the Highlands received its official opening last Thursday. Huggy Bear's Restaurant on Kushog Lake at Ox Narrows finally received its ceremonial ribbon snipping.

The occasion was a Schooner party, hosted by the beer company, Labatt's, with most of the participants taking their beverages on the deck overlooking Kushog Lake. The summer Schooner hostess, Kim Ward, was in attendance with the usual paraphernalia and games, along with a surprise visitor, Toronto journalist Paul Rimstead.

The new owners of the newly named Huggy Bear's are Bryan and Brenda Goodger. They took over the former Rockside Resort last year and have been putting the premises through a major facelift ever since.

The restaurant opened in November and has attracted a steady trade, even in the off season. This spring the licenced deck was added with obvious appeal for the summer crowd.

The renovations are all but completed. The restaurant has a pleasant casual atmosphere, highlighted by the bank of big windows on the lake side. The menu features a wide selection of items with emphasis on steaks and seafoods.

Bryan and Brenda are definite on how the meals will be served, in particular the steaks. "If you order a medium rare steak, that is what you'll get," Bryan emphasized. He also noted that there is a wide range of desserts, salads and home-made soup.

In addition to the deck and indoor restaurant seating, Huggy Bear's has a casual stand-up bar with a dart board for the over 'ome flavour.

With the official ceremonies finally out of the way, and the Goodgers with nine months of pre-opening experience under their belts, one could only assume that Huggy Bear's Restaurant at Ox Narrows is really open at last.

Toronto newspaper columnist Paul Rimstead, demonstrates his dexterity with a tray and glasses filled to the brim. A crowd of cheering onlookers watched from the deck at Huggy Bear's Restaurant at Ox Narrows.

- submitted -

May 24 to June 1, National Physical Activity Week was kicked off with Sneaker Day on May 23. To celebrate Sneaker Day, Kinmount Public School held their first annual field day organized by Mrs. B. Featherstone and assisted by Mrs. L. Isaac, Miss S. Kubena and Mrs. D. Austin. The students formed six teams which they named after famous name sneaker brands, made up team cheers and chose team colours which they wore that day.

Following opening ceremonies, races were held. The students then participated in a combination of field activities and fun events which were the parachute game, shot put, distance throw, obstacle course, soccer dribbling and skipping. The teams accumulated points at each event.

Congratulations to all participants for their sportsmanlike conduct. Ribbons were awarded to each team and were presented by the mothers who assisted at each event. A special thank you to Sandra Crego, Connie Crego, Joan Walker, Michelle Newman, Marlene Munro, Cathy King, Mary Hartin, Sue Magee, Dot Crego, Brenda Longhurst and Penny Hartin for their invaluable assistance. News from the Guild

by Shirley Hodgson

The Rails' End Gallery is a hive of activity these days. I'm sure you will be impressed with the Gallery's Annual "Faculty Show" which began on June 28 and will continue through until July 29.

This show has a new name this year - "Exciting Educators". As the name implies the work on display will characterize the exciting work being done by the teachers and other professionals in the arts.

Visitors to the Gallery will be able to take pleasure in viewing a stunning exhibition which has been hand crafted by the faculty of the Haliburton School of Fine Arts.

Speaking of the School, it never ceases to amaze me what the people accomplish in the classes at the school. This past week in the "Woven Imagery" class taught by Sandra Brownlee-Ramsale there was some lovely work done. This class was attended by three students from the Ontario College of Art. What a wonderful, interesting way to "learn", as well as have a great holiday, and meet many interesting people!

The Fourth Annual Art Auction will be held at the Rails' End Gallery on July 29 at 8 p.m. The items to be auctioned will be on display in the Waiting Room at the Gallery, for the entire month. During that time visitors will be able to set an advance bid on the paintings or crafts of their choice. Since the Art Auction is an annual fund raiser for the Gallery we appreciate your participation.

The really big news this

Last week-end Harry went a little overboard.

Harry always was the life of the party—even when it took to the water. Now Harry's one of the 500,000 boaters who have accidents involving alcohol each year. So, when you take to the water, leave the alcohol behind. Have a nice weekend—lots of them.

Another reminder to buy a ticket from some of the Guild Members, also at various lodges, or at the Gallery - to win a trip to Portugal. There will be an early bird draw on August 2 for $250.00 in cash. The tickets are $5.00.

Writers

The writers group had a very successful meeting on Monday, July 7 at the home of Gwen Hughes - despite the fact that many were unable to attend owing to illness or other reasons.

This group has found a stimulating fellowship - and are encouraged by the enthusiasm of all who are able to attend.

Spinners

The Spinners and Weavers met at the home of Jean Farrell last Monday, July 7 at 7:30 p.m. Her friend Maureen from Wales gave a most interesting talk on her involvement with spinning, knitting, etc. and she showed some slides of her work, also some of her clothing was modeled by various members of the group. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed her. Thank you very much, Maureen. See you at "Convergence!"

Busy season for local horticulturists

The Minden and District Horticultural Society is experiencing another exciting and busy season.

Beginning with the annual meeting held in early February there have been the regular monthly meetings at which there have been several excellent speakers usually with good demonstration.

In March, Verne Graham carried out an interesting Members' Participation program; In April Bob Thompson, now retired at Soyers Lake, spoke of and demonstrated pruning and grafting and was also present at the May meeting to inform us of spraying methods and insecticides.

Bart Hilhorst of M.N.R., at the June meeting, gave the history of the gypsy moth and the control of this pest. July brought Mrs. Allison Little of Little Britain to speak on "Preparing flowers and vegetables for show". She showed equipment which can be used and gave many interesting tips and methods for this.

Various members have attended meetings in Peterborough, the Spring Seminar in Lakefield and the Ontario Horticulture Convention in Peterborough, held quite recently.

Spring as per usual is a busy time, and many members give freely of their time to prepare and plant flower beds in the community. Beds at Lutterworth, Anson, Hindon and Minden, and Stanhope municipal offices are three of the sixteen, taken care of by this Society.

The Junior Horticulturists are doing a great job under the leadership of Mary Anne Wilson and they planted all the wooden and concrete tubs around the village. They are to be highly commended for a task well done.

It gives the members a real sense of satisfaction in doing this work, knowing their efforts will help to beautify our area for those who live here and for those who visit here in the summer months. It is disheartening when vandals abuse this. Dogs have been creating a good deal of damage in some beds.

There has been new interest at meetings this summer when competitions have been held for members.

At the present time, preparation is under way for the Annual Flower Show, August 7 & 8. The theme this year is "Floral Symphony" with Pat Campbell as Convener, assisted by Marion Ingram and Jean Hadley.

A show such as this requires a great deal of planning and preparation. The prize lists are out and are now available. New members and new exhibitors are always welcome. Showing exhibits creates a great challenge and experience.

The Society is sponsoring a Pumpkin Contest this year. Seeds have been given out - and planted - and is creating a good deal of interest among those participating, 30 some. So, who will have the largest pumpkin? The weather hasn't co-operated for good pumpkin growth, but perhaps the best is yet to come.

Membership is nearing the 150 mark and there is still plenty of time to join.

The Society usually canvasses the business people of the Community for prizes. However, this year it has been decided to refrain from this practice. The Society feels that these people who have been so generous in the past, are deluged by so many organizations and this year it is hoped the Horticultural Society can manage without the canvas.

Good gardening to all!

News from Staunworth Court

Well here we are again, folks!

So nice to see our apartments buzzing again as usual, and visitors returned home, among whom is Kathleen Thorn back from her trip to Las Vegas, Nevada. She says there were times when the temperature was 110 degrees F. (There were days this week, we came close, it's seemed. Do you agree?) Glad to see you back Kathy.

Since last writing we were entertained by Toos Reid and her musical group, namely Rose Berry on guitar, Nicole Kanters, on piano, Larry Vanlieshout on accordion and Toos on guitar. We enjoyed their solo arrangements, the harmony arrangement especially and the antics provided by Larry (a budding comedian, don't you think? Ha!) We look forward to your next visit folks. By the way, the selection rendered in harmony is one of their music accompaniments in their church, Roman Catholic. I must say it must add much to their services. Lunch was enjoyed later that evening as well as a birthday cake, prepared so tastefully by Mary Stata, for Emily Poole, Melissa Hampsen and Harry Cowan. Many happy days ahead to you all.

We had a surprise visit last week from a former resident, Sadie Kitcheman. She said she enjoyed visiting among us here at Staunworth Court, especially with her former neighbours, Vera and Henry Howe.

Harry and Jean Cowan returned from a trip by way of DeNure bus.

Florence Lindsay recently visited with her daughter and family in Ajax.

Holly Cooper and Margaret Horsley had a very interesting session in Intro-Calligraphy directed by H. Olsen. This course was held in the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School (under the School of Fine Arts) Calligraphy is a form of early printing, truly artistic in its form, beautiful to see on the printed page, and interesting, but difficult at times for one to form or print continuously and yet be legible.

We were pleased to have Mrs. Stiver and Mrs. Wilson call on us to see our quilt. You see our quilt is one of our first projects under New Horizons grant. Mrs. Stiver helped us considerably in planning our quilt to the extent that about all we had to do was to assemble the squares, sew and quilt. We thank her so much.

Many thanks are in order also to those who made our Bake Sale and Bazaar such a success (especially the baking) and to those who bought our items. We hope you shall see us again next year.

We are sorry to hear Jean Taylor is leaving us to take up her new residence in Hyland Crest. We wish her well and we know she will have the best of care.

Our sympathy goes out to Albert Stata in the loss of his brother Bill Stata; and to Mark Vasey in the loss of his brother-in-law, S. Flymen, to Len Trodd in the loss of his sister, and Eleanor Ferris in the loss of her cousin.

Those on sick list at present and we wish them speedy recoveries - they are Eleanor Ferris who is home from hospital, Mary Casey who fell and cut her head that needed many stitches and Carrie Vasey who is still waiting for her call to the hospital.

I hope you have not been too bored reading our news items. Perhaps next month you will read more of the folks I have not heard from this month and even report on our barbeque. Now just a note to the gentlemen buying a car! If your wife wishes to drive, don't stand in her way! Keep healthy, live to love and love to live.

P.S. So sorry to report the passing on of our dear friend Frank Poole. Our deepest sympathy goes out to Emily and family.

Club 35 winners at the Monday night euchre party were - door prize - Velda Harrison, most lone hands - Helen Davis, high man - Len Trodd, high lady - Ann Walton, others - Myrna McCarthy, Ken Thompson, and Marie Thompson.

Mrs. Art Austin heard from Mrs. Francis Crawford of Calgary, Alberta who is home from hospital, though still in casts. She wishes to be remembered to everyone.

A pretty summer wedding took place on Saturday, June 28th, 1986 at 7:00 p.m. at the United Church in Minden, when Rev. Clyde Westhaver united in marriage Jean Hoard and Allan Kernohan. The bride wore a floor length gown with mandarin collar and beaded embroidered bodice. Her waist length double tiered veil was caught by pearl and lace head piece. Her bouquet was red roses and stephanotis. The matron of honour was Elinor Burke of Minden. The bridesmaids were Heather Kernohan and Linda Harvey. All attendants wore dusty rose brocaded floor length gowns, with white lace and beaded head pieces. They carried pink roses and Alstoomeria. The best man was Jim Burke of Minden. The ushers were Randy Kernohan and Leslie Keech. A dance was held later in the evening at the Community Centre. Guests were from Toronto, Oshawa, Peterborough, Huntsville, Lindsay and Coe Hill.

A reminder to boys and girls 8 - 14 years Summer Programs are being held at Archie Stouffer Elementary School, July 22nd and 24th, 2:00 - 4:00 p.m. Bruna Foran will be instructing badminton. The fee is only 25c.

Lacey's were hit again. One wagon train left Saturday morning. Another came in Saturday afternoon, with Jim and Jo Oatman and children Crystal and Joshua from Shelburne. Cliff and Darlene Bricker and children Chianne and Ashlyne and niece Nancy from Orangeville.

The Minden Recreation Committee is sponsoring a dance for teens Friday, July 18th, 7:30 - 10:00 p.m. at the Community Centre. Admission is $2.00.

Yvonne Guida attended a performance of Cats in Toronto Saturday evening and enjoyed it immensely. The whole production is terrific, the choreography sensational and all the special effects are really something. It reminded her a little of a show she attended in Reno, Nevada some years back, with people and special lighting coming down from the ceiling, and members of the cast popping up in the audience. After the show she spent at least half an hour backstage with members of the cast who were a great group of fellows and gals, all with tremendous credits in their respective backgrounds. They all sat around kidding and laughing. In the afternoon she went to the movie Salvador which is an extremely powerful true life drama. It is not a movie for the faint hearted and one can readily understand individuals being caught up in the maelstrom of this tortured land. James Wood, as a photographer in Salvador gives a powerful performance as a man trying to portray the truth in a land that he has grown to love, and the penalties he and others like him have to pay for trying to help desperate people. She left the theatre deep in thought for it is not Salvador alone that is deeply troubled. It was a most interesting weekend.

Last chance to go with the gang to Cullen Gardens and Black Creek Village on the Women's Institute Charter Bus on July 22nd. Anyone is welcome and call Annie Kernohan at 286-1648.

The $1,000 Jack Pot Must Go Bingo will be held at the arena downstairs by the Rotary Club on August 3. Daubers will be available and early bird is at 7:30 and it is a package cost of $8.00.

The ladies of the Anglican Church Women had a very successful Saturday with the baking and salad luncheon and on the draw for groceries winner was lucky Pearl Cowan.

Coming events are the United Church Salad Dinner at Minden United Church on July 16, then Carnarvon U.C.W. are having a Lawn and Bake Sae at Zion Church on July 19th. Then 18 - 20 is Country Good Times in Wilberforce and the number to call is 448-2981 and it is long distance from Minden.

Rather a wet weekend but we needed that, now at nearly 2 on Monday the sun is shining. Please phone in news by Sunday evening 10 p.m.

Jason Moore of Bramalea is visiting with Grandma Irene.

Some of the winners from last week's Rotary Bingo are, Nevada Hat, shared by Gerry Ryan and Marian Cote, Winner Take All game was Jim Hamilton and Pat Dennison, and the final game was shared with one name I got was Peggy Brown. These weekly bingos are on Tuesday evenings starting at 7:30 p.m.

Winners at last Thursday afternoon euchre games at the Library Cultural Centre were lone hands (on a cut) Gladys Wruth and others Agnes Mullin, Grace Turton, Shirley Elcome and Hugh Craig.

Guest last week with Flo and Joe Dollo was his brother Frank of Toronto. Another friend, Bruno Tibery of Clearwater, Florida was in the County for visits with friends.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Ina Brintnell, Doris Vaughan and Frank Poole whose funerals were since last weekend.

Cairine Siguerireda, Melissa and Elizabeth of Binghamton, N.Y. has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Mac Carey.

Thursday guest with the Howard Scotts were her mother and father and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hyslop of Havelock.

The community sends all good wishes to Len Hamilton who is a patient at Civic Hospital, Peterborough.

Jeanne and Milton Sears recently enjoyed a brief visit with the Glen Sears of Oshawa and while there a visit with Sandra, Rick and Logan Moth.

Blake Hughes and Amy and Rachel of Mississauga spent the weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hughes and also Blake's birthday, on Saturday.

There was a special bus load of residents from Staunworth Court and Sunrise Apartments on a trip to the newly opened IGA, and too bad there was no parking.

Saturday, July 12th the South Lake Trailer Park had their annual Horseshoe Tournament. Winners were Dave and Jason, second Roy and Joyce, third Ron and Edith and fourth Barry and Ella. To finish off there was bingo that evening and the jackpot of $18 was won by Jim Landry.

Terry Campbell and Pat McMurter has arrived home after 2 weeks vacation in Campbellton N.B. where they enjoyed the Salmon Festival and visited relatives and friends.

Birthdays at Hyland Crest now are July 19th Amelia Good, and Janie Kent July 22nd and July 14th Wilbert Sisson.

Sunday afternoon was the Cox reunion at the home of Mrs. Lyman Cox. There were over 60 present and all had a good visit and a good time around the picnic tables. Moyer and Pennay Hewitt and Greg from Tottenham were there and Tina Gilbert went home for a couple of days. Then Pennay, Greg and Tina will return, as Pennay and Greg are to visit relatives.

Branch 129 news

by Gerald Irish

From the promoter of the Legion Bluegrass Festival, we have received a tentative programme for the shows on August 8, 9 and 10. It looks like an exciting line-up, running from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. on that Friday, from 12 noon to nearly midnight on Saturday and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

The official opening of the festival will take place Friday evening at 8:15 and the boat, motor trailer draw will be held Saturday night at 10:45.

The Sunday Gospel Service will start at 11 a.m. and features Macdonald Bluegrass, Family Pride and The Boys from Indiana.

Electric power is currently being installed to the stage and concession areas. Your Legion has undertaken the task of providing sources of safe drinking water for the campers and day visitors. Arrangements have been made to bus people to and from the village. Buses will run on a regular schedule from the site to the Municipal garage parking area to the village and back again. Since parking at the Festival site will be at a premium, this service, for a small charge, will make it easier for people to participate in this fantastic weekend.

Branch 129 is hoping to have a Bluegrass Amateur Contest at Head Lake Park in Haliburton on the Sunday before the Festival. At 2 p.m. on August 3, the contest will begin if we have sufficient entries.

The top three winners will receive will receive cash awards plus Saturday passes to the Festival. They will also have a chance to appear on the Bluegrass stage, to entertain you and to gain public exposure for themselves.

I have been invited by Jim Higgins to do a telephone interview regarding your Legion Bluegrass Festival, on his Lindsay Cable 10 T.V. show on Wednesday evening, July 16 at 7:30 p.m. Arrangements are also being made to do a radio interview on CKLY, Lindsay, the week prior to Bluegrass.

Jim was Master of Ceremonies for the Mac Wiseman show held here in the spring and will be one of the M.C.'s at the Legion Bluegrass Festival. Mr. Higgins is a devotee of Bluegrass and one of the staunchest and hardest working people we have to promote Bluegrass in the Highlands.

Joan and I have been invited to speak about the Bluegrass Festival at the Rotary Club's weekly meeting this Thursday.

Congratulations to Len Salvatori on winning the oil painting, drawn on Saturday night.

The Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic is on July 22 in the Legion Hall. Volunteers are needed to unload, set up, take down and reload equipment at this clinic. If you can help, please be at the Legion around 12 noon on the clinic day.

Tickets for the President's Ball are selling well. Only 250 tickets will be sold. This ball on July 19 will feature the music of a great six-piece orchestra, a comedy show and a delicious buffet. Almost all of the 12 branches in our Zone will have representatives at this Ball. Get your ticket now. Don't be disappointed.

Your D.V.A. representative, Gary Barker, will be here on July 29 from 10 a.m. to noon. For an appointment, call Lloyd Whittaker at 457-1093.

Saturday's 50-50 draw winner was Gerry Bannon who won $36.25.

Entertainment in the Club Room continues every weekend. Last Friday Stan Griffith was on piano and had the place singing and swinging.

Billie and Ed Pickard performed on Saturday night to a packed house. This dynamic duo always provides top calibre entertainment.

Twilight tour

Victoria Soil & Crop Twilight Tour will be held on July 22, starting at 7:00 p.m. The tour will start at the rod row cereal plots on the west edge of Little Britain, next to the ball park. Here you will have the opportunity to see 12 varieties of oats and 13 varieties of barley planted side by side. Also at this stop you will see a high yield barley trial where different seeding and nitrogen fertility levels are being compared along with a growth regulator.

At the second stop we will be looking at red spring wheat under intensive cereal management, on Jeff Whyte's farm.

The third stop is at Bob Dykstra's farm to see the Tillage 2000 plot where yield response to different primary tillage practices are being compared over 3 years.

The fourth stop is to see Hanna spring canola grown by Neil Mulock.

This should be a very informative tour covering many of the current crops and crop management practices in Victoria County. Plan on attending the Victoria Soil & Crop Twilight Tour on July 22, starting at 7:00 p.m. from Little Britain.

Hello Folks! Here I am again. We sure can't complain about the cold weather now. We had a nice bus ride on Monday to Kirkfield and surrounding countryside. Had a nice talk with Angus Coulter's son Leslie and got the low down on what farming is all about. Charlie Brohm's daughter-in-law came and took him out for the day on Monday, which he said was enjoyed very much. The Church service Sunday evening was taken by Rev. John Burgess. We are so glad to have him back.. On Tuesday morning we had Pastor Everett Wicks from Minden Gospel Church. Monday morning Pearl Lyle's son Bob and his wife Doris came from Sundridge and took her out for the day. It was very enjoyable to tour the countryside, ending up at her daughter Jean's home for evening dinner.

Hi Kids!! Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

I HAVE BEEN HERE BEFORE, BUT WHEN OR HOW I CANNOT TELL; I KNOW THE GRASS BEYOND THE DOOR, THE SWEET KEEN SMELL, THE SIGHING SOUND, THE LIGHTS AROUND THE SHORE.

Mrs. Oliver had her son Raymond to see her and take her to see her old home at Boshkung. Charlie Brohm had his son Don to see him on Wednesday. On Friday the residents and staff had a surprise farewell dinner and presentation for Mr. Brown. He never shed a tear. All he was worrying about was he wasn't properly dressed for the occasion. I thought that sort of thing was usually for the ladies. However, we hate to have to say farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Brown and hope they will be happy in their new home. Edith Welch had a pleasant time and outing with her son Ron and his wife during the week past. Mrs. Buttery and Ina McGuire had a call by Louise Hall and on Friday Lola Sims and her daughter Laurie McKay called on them. Congratulations to Caroline Jones on her birthday July 12th. Major Betty Barton from Singapore visited Minnie Barnum. She is with the Salvation Army. Did anyone see the proud look on Mark Schell's face? This last week or two he had a grandson after having three granddaughters. He is Mark the 3rd. Saturday Bill Todd, Mary and Tom Nichols, Anna and Bruce Engles from Richmond Hill called on Alice Todd. On Saturday she had Joe Todd from Lindsay with Murray and Red Turriff from Napanee. We welcome Edna Cowan home again. I am glad to say she is feeling and looking much better. Earl Kent was in Sunday evening to see his mother and sister Mary McKelvey and Mabel Deacon and her mother were in to see Mrs. Todd. Remember: A smile is the passport to happy living and its healing power is unlimited. Au Revoir.

Trent-Severn water levels

On Monday, July 7, the stored water on the Haliburton lakes averaged 89.6%, about 4.5% greater than the 10-year average for that date. This has dropped from 94.7% a week earlier. Evaporation has begun to be felt on the lakes of the waterway including the Haliburton area. This has resulted in the need for higher than minimum flows from the Gull, Burnt, Nogies, Mississauga, Eels and Jack tributaries. The flow of the Otonabee had not been reduced to minimum due to the surplus in reserve. Today, July 11, due to the lack of rainfall, a cut to near minimum was necessary to this flow leaving the Kawarthas. The dry conditions have caused Lake Simcoe-Couchiching to recede by about 8 cm in the past two weeks. Similarly Scugog Lake has continued to decline about 3 cm since having its flow cut off almost entirely on Monday, July 7.

WORKER B'S.

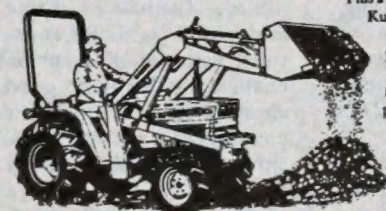

Nothing works harder than our B-Series tractors. They range from 12 to 19 hp. So there's one for every job. And with a hydraulic 3-point hitch, front and rear PTO, these tractors can handle a variety of implements.

Like every Kubota tractor, B models come with your choice of 2- or 4-wheel drive. Plus a sturdy, low-maintenance Kubota diesel engine.

There are special features you can choose from, too. Like hydrostatic transmission for the ease of no-shift one-pedal control.

So if you're looking for a hard worker, look no further than Kubota's worker B tractors.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the kind friends, neighbours and relatives, who took the time to send me a get well card, especially the Ladies of the Minden Altar Society for the beautiful flowers and their prayers for my well being. God bless you all.

Luella Yearwood

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all our friends and neighbours for their support and kindness at the time of our recent fire. Thank you also to the Minden Firefighters who assisted Stanhope Firemen and to Minden Ambulance Service who administered first aid Wednesday night, June 25th. A special thank you to the Stanhope Firefighters who had to return Thursday morning when the fire broke out again. It made us realize that firemen are often taken for granted, and until they are needed they do not get the recognition they deserve. These men who are volunteers, were hampered by many obstacles but they fought our fire with all the diligence and professionalism you would expect to find in a large city. Stanhope Township has a group of Firefighters to be proud of and we hope in the future they will receive a lot more bouquets than they do barbs. Thanks again fellows - you were terrific.

Al & Ann Thompson

Sincere thanks - to my neighbours, Dr. Lodenquai, all the staff of Minden Hospital, Home Care folks, V.O.N.'s and Minden Lions Club for all the help you gave me and my son during my late husband's battle with cancer. Special thanks to the ladies who prepared and served lunch after the funeral, to the Rev. G. Elliott for his comforting words, and to the Monk family for handling our wishes so efficiently. The flowers, cards and donations are truly appreciated. As a newcomer to the area, I am overwhelmed and really grateful to find so many good people. Bless you all.

Pat Graham and Kieran

To - Bill, Richard, Ken, Kay, Jean, Bess, Fred, Laurel, Joan, Mike, Norma, Paula, Jim, Dean, Deanna, Sharon, Mary, Reg, John, Chris, Jack, Audrey, Les, Ian, Rose and Kim. Gee - thanks guys. You sure know how to treat

THE IMAGRUNT

See you all in 2006 for a repeat!

The wife and family of Frank Poole wish to thank everyone for their kindness, also friends and family. Special thanks to our wonderful Dr. Lodenquai, the nurses at Minden Hospital and to the ladies and Corinne of Staunworth Court, Mary and Albert Stata, Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home and our Diane. Thank you all so much, you've all been great. God Bless You.

Emily Poole

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all our friends, relatives for the donations, flowers, food and acts of kindness in the loss of our mother Lillie Miller, also thanks to U.C.W. for the lovely lunch. Special thanks to Hyland Crest, Minden Hospital Staff and doctors, Rev. Fred Elson for his message of comfort and Gordon Monk Funeral Home.

Lillie Miller's family

Thank you to my friends and customers for their concern and best wishes during my recent stay in hospital. Special thanks to Drs. Mike Pizzuto and Jeff Lodenquai. Also staff and nurses at the Minden Red Cross Hospital, who really do a super job. Thanks.

Don Blakey

Vic and I want to say thank you to our children for the wonderful surprise party they gave us for our 50th anniversary. Also to our friends who remembered us. To Irma and her staff at the Schnitzel House for the service they gave us. Thank you all.

Vic & Lil Martin

We wish to thank Francis Thomas, a man who in our opinion is one of the most considerate and kindest persons we ever met. His crew and equipment were very busy elsewhere but he did not hesitate to send trucks, loaders and men to remove the debris, bring in fill and level it after our recent fire. Thank you Francis for your kindness and generosity and to your men for a dirty job well done.

Al & Ann Thompson

A very sincere "Thank you" to all of those, for their donations of articles, clothing and baked goods, for the Museum rummage sale of July 5th. Also many thanks and appreciation to those who worked on the project that made it a success. Sincerely - "Thank you".

Museum Committee

Dear Dr. Bennett. You do a good job on ducks. Thanks.
